

Has Five Point Plan to Ease Racial Tension

By ROBERT MYERS

HONOLULU (AP) — President Kennedy's call for a five-point program to reduce racial tension in cities was taken up today by several of the nation's most powerful mayors who pledged a battle to see it through.

New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner said of the President's message: "It is a real challenge. A lot of us will fight to see that our conference adopts a resolution supporting his position."

Backing up Wagner at the national mayors' conference where Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, Mayor Jerome Cavanagh of Detroit and Mayor Joseph Barr of Pittsburgh.

Cavanagh, in fact, went further in support of Kennedy's suggestions, terming civil rights "the most critical problem confronting the nation today. It is more critical than Cuba or Berlin."

Kennedy made a 30-minute speech to the assembled mayors Sunday afternoon, emphasizing that Negroes are certain to win equal rights and calling on the city chief executives to make the process a peaceful revolution.

The President's address capped a five-day, five-state Western tour that carried him from military inspections to political appearances and two talks on civil rights. He flew back to Washington Sunday night to make a major foreign

Family Outruns a Tornado

JANESVILLE, Minn. (AP)—A farmer, his family and guests at a birthday party for the man's wife raced away in cars Sunday to escape a tornado that wrecked most of the farm buildings.

About 32 persons were at the Robert Britton farm for Mrs. Britton's birthday. The sky suddenly darkened and a funnel was seen approaching from the west.

Piling into a half dozen cars, everyone at the place drove off ahead of the twister. They were about a mile away when the funnel swept into the farmyard.

Utility Law in Missouri Struck Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court struck down today a Missouri law that authorized the governor to seize and operate a privately-owned public utility when a strike threatens the public welfare. The decision was unanimous.

The law made illegal any concerted refusal to work after a plant has been taken over by the state in the public interest.

Division 1287 of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America contended the law conflicted with the federal Taft-Hartley Labor Law.

The litigation arose from a dispute between Division 1287 and the Kansas City Transit Inc., which operates in Missouri and Kansas.

The court's opinion was written by Justice Stewart. He was absent from the high bench today, however and it was read by Justice White.

League Plans Building on N.L.R. Lots

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Glenn Zimmerman announced Saturday that the controversial proposed sale of four lots in the North Little Rock Civic Center has been called off and he will proceed with plans to build a headquarters for the Arkansas Municipal League on them.

Zimmerman, executive secretary of the league, bought the lots from the City of North Little Rock in April for $30,000. It was learned last week that he might sell them to some Memphis developers for $50,000.

Three North Little Rock aldermen moved immediately to void the sale, saying they were under the impression, when the land was sold to Zimmerman, that it would be used for a league headquarters. The lots were purchased in Zimmerman's name.

Zimmerman said that after the controversy developed, the Memphis interests dropped their option to purchase the site on which they planned an apartment building.

Gov. Wallace Determined to Bar Negroes

By REX THOMAS

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Clinging defiantly to his segregation stand and risking a jail term, Gov. George C. Wallace headed today for an imminent crisis at the University of Alabama.

The two Negro students he has sworn to turn back at the university doors returned to Alabama after a weekend in New York to await the showdown.

"We shall defend our rights and we shall dare to do so," the 43-year-old governor said Sunday night.

"I am going to stand for you at the university," he told the people of Alabama in a radio-television broadcast.

The students Vivian Malone of Mobile and James A. Hood of Gadsden, are to register Tuesday for the summer session. The governor has pledged to be there and stand in their way.

Wallace planned to fly to Tuscaloosa this afternoon from the state capital at Montgomery, 100 miles to the southeast. Tonight, he is expected to confer with members of the university board of trustees who voted to admit the Negroes on the main campus here and a third Negro at the university center in Huntsville.

The governor is ex-officio president of the board and voted against desegregation despite a federal court order.

Before leaving Montgomery, Wallace renewed his appeal to the people to keep away from the university and let him alone carry out a test of state sovereignty.

Already on the tightly barricaded campus with orders to prevent any possible violence are more than 800 state, county, city and campus policemen.

Waiting in nearby armories on standby duty are more than 500 National Guard troops mobilized Sunday by Wallace.

Wallace said in his broadcast that to send "a loyal Southern governor to jail" would amount to military dictatorship.

He was mindful of a federal court injunction forbidding him to carry out his promised blockade of the Negroes.

Wallace made clear that his army of civilian police and the standby National Guard units will be used only to prevent violence and not to bar the Negroes.

Despite the governor's determined stand, Hood expressed hope that he and Miss Malone will be admitted without interference.

Dr. Frank A. Rose, university president, expressed confidence that the university will meet the crisis with dignity.

High Level Talks Between Big 3 Tentatively Set

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Kennedy announced today an agreement with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to hold a "high level" conference in Moscow to seek "early agreement on a comprehensive test ban treaty." The meeting is tentatively set for July.

Kennedy also announced that the United States will refrain from nuclear weapons tests in the atmosphere "so long as other states" do not test.

"We will not be the first to resume," the President said in an address prepared for commencement exercises at American University. "Such a declaration is no substitute for a formal binding treaty—but I hope it will help us achieve one."

The understanding on the Moscow meeting is that it will not be a Summit Session nor a foreign ministers conference but rather a meeting of representatives of Khrushchev, Kennedy and Macmillan, the representatives to be men who command their highest confidence.

"Our hopes must be tempered with the caution of history," Kennedy said of the conference to break the nuclear deadlock. "But with our hopes go the hopes of all mankind."

In making his announcement Kennedy moved swiftly from one area of crucial national concern to another. He was just back from Honolulu where he made a major plea to the nation's mayors to join in a campaign for racial readjustment.

His big jet plane landed at Andrews Air Force Base at 8:54 a.m. EDT after a flight of 8 hours and 55 minutes from the Hawaiian capital. That left him time for only a brief check-in at the White House before the mid-morning speech at the university.

Kennedy made the announcement of the conference and the declaration of his own limited no-test policy as two of the three major points of his speech at the university. In the third part he said:

"Finally, my fellow Americans, let us re-examine our attitude toward peace and freedom here at home. The quality and spirit of our own society must justify and support our efforts abroad."

In this obvious reference to burning civil rights issues, Kennedy declared:

"It is the responsibility of the executive branch at all levels of government—local, state and national—to provide and protect freedom for all citizens by all means within their authority. It is the responsibility of the legislative branch at all levels, wherever that authority is not

Chief Inspector Samuel Herbert of Scotland Yard told the court Ward likely will face a number of more serious charges.

Herbert said he opposed granting of bail because he feared Ward would interfere with prosecution witnesses.

Macmillan refused to comment on the Profumo affair and gave no public indication of concern. But the scandal rocking Britain could spell his downfall as Conservative party leader. His chance of survival depends largely on the showing he makes before Parliament.

The program, which will begin at 10 a.m., will consist of guided tours of the Station. Four separate stops will be made, and several different phases of research will be explained at each stop. These stops have been arranged so that visitors will be shown the forestry work being carried on at the Station, plus the work on watermelons, cucumbers, hybrid sorghums, and hybrid sudans.

On Friday, June 28, the Station will hold a Negro Visiting Day. Bittle said the program for the Negro day will consist of a guided tour of the Station and a tour of the beef cattle and pasture work being carried out at the Station's Spencer Tract. The Negro Day program is also scheduled to start at 10 a. m.

Bittle said that lunch will be available both days, and afternoon programs are scheduled for both afternoons. Anyone desiring more information on either of these Visiting Days may obtain it from county Extension agents in southwest Arkansas.

David Ostentfeld asked him, "Could you have—or—defended yourself without using the gun?"

Dick Hinton was leaning forward, talking earnestly to Keyes. Smokey now watched them.

"It's almost 12 o'clock," said Judge Hinton, when he could make himself heard. "I suggest that we all need and should take a break for lunch. The Court will therefore be recessed until 2 o'clock."

I sat staring at him. Lovey nudged me, and my neighbor did, too. Finally I managed to stand up. I hadn't realized how late it was, now much time had passed. Time had lost all meaning for me. Whether we had been in that room long time, a short time, or no time at all—I didn't know.

"We have time to go home for lunch," said Aunt Bean briskly. "I sat staring at him. Lovey nudged me, and my neighbor did, too. Finally I managed to stand up. I hadn't realized how late it was, now much time had passed. Time had lost all meaning for me. Whether we had been in that room long time, a short time, or no time at all—I didn't know."

I looked about for Smokey, and found him only as he went through the side door with Dick, and Keyes, and the policeman. Could we see them, talk to them? Probably not.

I looked around for my neighbor. He was clear across the room, talking to Wiley Bledsoe, not as if he knew him, but as all the people in the room were talking to other people. We milled about all of us frowning with uneasiness and dissatisfaction. We asked each other how things were going, though we, each one, did not ourselves know. Something was wrong, something in the morning's testimony rang untrue. We had been left with many questions unanswered. And what had been told left us with a troubled feeling that some things told did not fit in with the truth as we knew it, and wanted to believe it. Smokey was not telling the whole story. I felt that, and hearing a word here, a phrase there, as we made our way out of the courtroom, I knew that others felt the same way.

If he was not telling the truth, if he was heaving out essential things—

My fear intensified. I had not thought it could. But I was not able to eat Clara's good lunch. Her soup, and apple salad—I couldn't eat any of it.

Aunt Bean lectured me briefly. I was to get hold on myself! My face would make a saint look guilty! And if I didn't care for myself—or Smokey—for heaven's sake, would I give a little thought to Lovey?

"And who's the man sitting next to you?" she asked.

"I don't know."

"You talked to him."

"Oh, not talk!"

"I saw you."

A word or two, yes. He'd spoken to me.

"I don't know who he is," I said again.

"A city reporter, I'll bet. When we go back, let's sit next to the aisle."

Has Five Point

policy speech today at American University.

White House aides termed the university address one of the most significant pronouncements during Kennedy's tenure as chief executive. There was speculation to halt nuclear weapons tests.

Kennedy told the mayors in his address at a Waikiki Beach hotel the time is past "for token moves and talks." It is clear, he said, that Negroes eventually will have equal rights and "our responsibility, yours and mine, is to see that they are won in a peaceful and constructive manner, and not won in the streets."

The chief executive urged that cities establish biracial human relations committees to identify tensions before they reach crises stage and to help ease them. He also proposed:

—Every local government make certain its own ordinances and operations are constitutional. "Every instance or institution of segregation sanctioned by local legislation or public action is clearly invalid," he said.

—Each local government abolish discrimination in employing and promoting municipal workers.

—Each city government enact laws assuring the rights of all residents of equal employment and housing opportunities and equal access to public accommodations.

—Each mayor undertake a special campaign to encourage young persons of both races to stay in school in order to increase their chances for steady jobs and thus lessen unemployment among the unskilled. "I think this may prove to be, in time, the most important thing we can all do," the President said.

The mayors' conference resolutions committee went into session immediately after the speech and drafted a six-point program embodying all of Kennedy's proposals, plus a plea that "minority groups be encouraged to recognize the correlation of responsibility and duty with right and that equality of responsibility be encouraged along with equality of opportunity."

British Scandal

ment next Monday when asked to explain his role in the background to the intrigue.

If Macmillan fails to give satisfactory answers, one parliamentary informant predicted, there is little doubt he will be pressured even more to resign.

The gravest threat came from some of Macmillan's own Conservatives who accused him of negligence and naivete in not unearthing the true story of the Profumo affair earlier.

With an edge of about 100 seats in the House of Commons, the Conservatives under normal circumstances could easily turn back any opposition move to bring down the Macmillan government.

But some Tory legislators have expressed doubts whether they can continue to support Macmillan as party leader.

Macmillan must call new elections before October 1964. Even before the Profumo case broke, pollsters were giving the edge to the Labor party.

Christine has said she and Profumo were lovers. For months rumors had whispered this. Before Parliament in March Profumo denied the rumors. Then last Wednesday he changed his story, resigned his sub-Cabinet post and quit Parliament in disgrace.

Profumo, while confessing that he and Miss Keeler were more than platonic friends, insisted that British security had not been compromised.

There has been no suggestion that Profumo let classified information leak out. But his position in the double affair obviously made him a candidate for Soviet blackmail.

Rep. Croxton Is Virtually a Candidate

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — Rep. Hardy Croxton of Benton County virtually declared himself a candidate for governor during a telephone interview Saturday.

Croxton assailed the administration of Gov. Orval E. Faubus, blamed Faubus for a "lousy" legislative session this year, said under Faubus' leadership a "power machine" had grown up, instituting a "fear complex" and said the "machine cannot be dissolved until Faubus is beaten."

He declined to say he was planning to run for governor, admitted he was "thinking seriously about it," and said, "If, a year from now, things point in that direction, I would not shrink what I feel is my public duty."

The public pulse is being felt now in a series of speaking engagements, Croxton said.

He has scheduled engagements runner-up.

Syracuse Has Number of Travelers

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Arkansas, after losing its last six International League baseball games, tries to break the habit tonight against Rochester.

Arkansas lost a doubleheader to Syracuse Sunday, 6-5 in 11 innings and 3-2. It was Arkansas' 10th loss to Syracuse in 12 games.

Lee Elia homered for the Travelers with none on in the eighth inning of the first game.

Fernal Gody doubled in the winning run in the first game and Gales Brown homered to give the Chiefs the nightcap, too.

In other International League games Sunday, Buffalo beat Richmond 5-4 and 4-3, Atlanta beat Toronto 5-6 in 11 innings and then lost 6-2, Jacksonville mauled Rochester 16-0 and then lost 5-0, and Columbus split a doubleheader with Indianapolis, winning 5-4 and losing 3-1.

Nat Martinez boasted the most unusual statistic today in the league—one start and one no-hitter.

Martinez, normally a mop-up man for Rochester, got his rare starting shot Sunday as doubleheaders depleted the pitching staff. He hurled a no-hitter in the seven-inning wrapup of a doubleheader with Jacksonville as Rochester won.

Martinez, 5-foot-8 and 185 pounds, fanned six batters and walked only one in his pitching classic. A fancy running catch by rightfielder Sam Bowers in the fourth saved the no-hitter. Jacksonville paraded 14 batters to the plate in its big inning in the opener. Luke Easter tagged winner Reuben Gomez (9-4) for a home run with the bases loaded.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jon C. Sewell of Springdale, named the school's "outstanding student of senior year," at University of Arkansas Medical School commencement exercises Sunday.

Frank Herrera gave Columbus the necessary runs to beat Indianapolis in the first game.

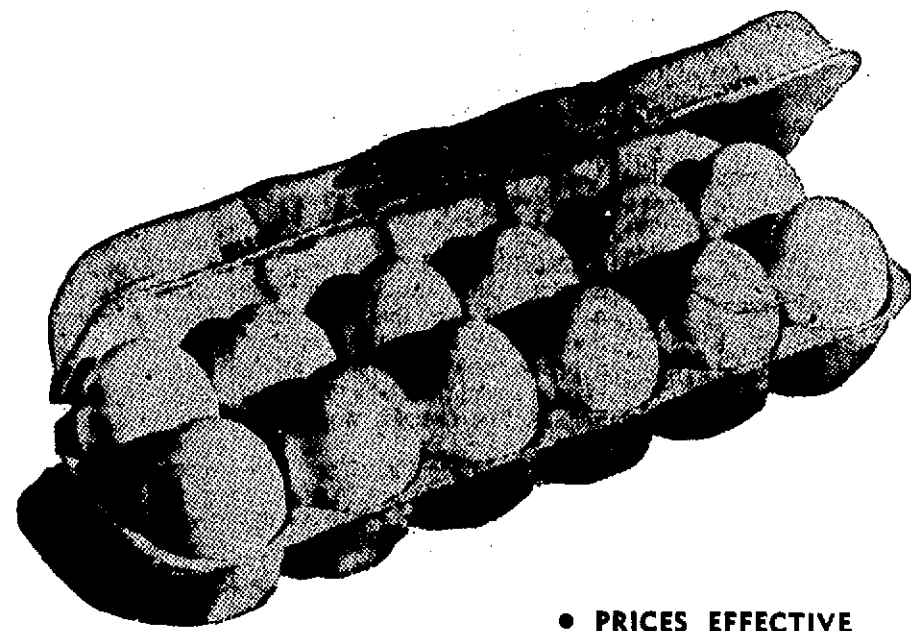

Two homers by Joe Christopher, his 14th and 15th, enabled Buffalo to win the first game from Richmond. Rick Herrscher's pinch-hit single produced two runs to give the Bisons a sweep.

DOROTHY DIX

THE ETHERAL TRIANGLE
By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I am faced with a serious situation in our home. When I married my husband three and a half years ago, I thought the sun rose and set in what he did, thought and wanted.

Soon after our first child's birth (we now have two), he went into the service. While away he had several girls. Knowing how lonely he was, I never said anything. But when he came home he continued to date other girls, saying he couldn't stand the sight of me.

I tried to talk to him because of our kids. So we continued as was. His indifference chilled my love. I loathe him.

Now I have a boy friend. We're both driven half-crazy by this impossible situation. I stopped seeing him but that didn't make any difference. Finally I told my husband. He won't contest a divorce but should I get one? How about the children? I am 21, my husband 22 and the man I love 23. — Frantic

Dear Frantic: Whether to abandon ship or wait for the wind and tide to change is the decision you alone can make. Your marriage is clearly on the rocks and foundering badly. How it got so far off course I can only guess from what little you have told me.

The mortality rate of teen marriages is alarmingly high. One reason is that personalities sometimes change as they develop so that the person you marry at 18 isn't necessarily the same three or four years later. Also, you, yourself, may change. Ideally, of course, the maturing process should continue through life, but the rate of growth is more rapid in the teens than later.

Apparently your husband changed markedly after your marriage. Love and respect are certainly necessary ingredients for marital success but they must be earned and reciprocated. The smooth sailing that every bride and groom romantically anticipate rarely occurs "forever after," and love and respect can quickly wash overboard during the first squall.

You did the right thing to try to give up your new boy friend and when that failed, to talk over the whole situation with your husband. Since he can't stand the sight of you and your love for him has turned to hate, your hesitancy about divorce must be primarily on account of the children. It is far more damaging for them to live in an atmosphere of hostility and tension than to have divorced parents. But for their sakes, and your own, after the divorce (if you decide to go ahead with proceedings), wait a reasonable length of time before you remarry so you won't repeat past mistakes.

Painful as they may be at the time, mistakes are often the most effective way to gain self-insight and a more realistic judgment of others. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Divorce."

Dear Helen: A boy loved me but I didn't love him. Then he married and I was glad. Now another boy has asked my parents for my hand in marriage. In the beginning he loved my sister but she didn't give the snap for him. Just yesterday he wrote saying if I ever changed my mind about our engagement and wanted to break off, it would be okay with him. I'm very upset for he is truly the only boy I ever loved. What shall I do? —Worried Heart

Dear Worried Heart: Your romantic history to date reminds me of a merry-go-round. Fortunately, the music keeps right on playing and no one as yet has captured the brass ring. Your fiancé's letter sounds to me as if he'd like the music to stop so he could get off the carousel. Now is the time to clear up all the may-be's. Ask your sister to see if she has any light to shed on your situation.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Chisox Knock Orioles Out of 1st Place

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
They call Dick Radatz "The Monster." And with good reason, the way the burly Boston strong-boy has been terrorizing the American League countryside. Radatz' latest conquest came at Baltimore Sunday in a 3-2 Red Sox victory in 14 innings that shouldered the Orioles out of first place. The 6-foot-6, 245-pound fast baller again showed why he is rated as one of the best relievers in baseball by muscling his way through six scoreless innings, striking out 10 Orioles in the process.

Radatz' stout effort was backed by the Chuck Schilling-Russ Nixon hitting combination that produced the tying run in the ninth and the winning run in the 14th.

With Baltimore losing, the Chicago White Sox jumped into the lead by one-half game with a 4-3 squeaker over Kansas City. Ron Hansen doubled home the deciding run in the ninth and starter-turned reliever Juan Pizarro registered a brilliant pitching performance for the White Sox.

Also in the AL — four home

Last Saturday morning Bob Tolleson, left, and Robert Martin, right, found the big ones hitting at Ram Wood lake so they latched onto a four and a half and five pounder right quick. They said they were using a Devil's Horse. Anyway they had a total of 15 bass, including the two big ones above.
